Teach Him Well

A child is a person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is going to sit where you are sitting and when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. You may adopt all the policies you please, but how they will be carried out depends on him. He will assume control of your cities, states and nations. He is going to move in and take over your churches, schools, universities and corporations. All your books are going to be judged, praised or condemned by him. The fate of humanity is in his hands. Teach him well.

No Reruns – Posted on the church bulletin board in a New York Church: ALL NEW SERMONS – NO SUMMER RERUNS

A Sunday School teacher asked her young class how Noah spent his time on the ark. There were no answers, so she asked, “Do you suppose he did a lot of fishing?”

“What?” responded a six-year old. “With only 2 worms?”

How long has he been preaching?

A stranger entered the church in the middle of the sermon and seated himself in the back pew. After awhile he began to fidget. Leaning over to the man ahead of him, he whispered, “How long has he been preaching?”

Thirty or forty years, I think,” the man replied.

“I’ll stay then,” the stranger decided. “He must be about through by now.”

The school will teach children how to read, but the environment of the home must teach them what to read. The school can teach them how to think, but the home must teach them what to believe.
